BUILDING DESTROYED - During the height of the Post Office ave. fire last Saturday morning, firefighters had the double job of putting out the fire and keeping it from spreading to adjoining buildings. As some firefighters handle hose lines in the front of the building, others put up a water curtain that effectively stopped the flames from reaching the nearest structure. (Murray)

Fire May Have Been Malicious

"Possible malicious burning" is the verdict of local and state investigators, after viewing the charred remains of the Knights of Columbus building, on Post Office ave. The structure was demolished early last Saturday morning. Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton said the state fire marshal listed the possibility of arson, after he carefully inspected the burned-out building. Saturday's fire was the third there in 11 days. Although the two-story, old building was completely ravaged by the flames, the fire department managed to prevent their spread to adjoining, tinder-dry structures. The department has been commended by the Selectmen for its work in preventing the fire from (Continued on Page Ten)

Top 10 Percent Of Senior Class

Eighteen students at Andover High have been named as being the top 10 percent of the senior class. From among volunteers within this group will be selected the honor essayists for the June 7 graduation. Principal Philip Wormwood announced the following students as being in the top 10 percent, in alphabetical order: Susan Albani, Edith Clark, Roseanne Clark, Philip Coates, Roberta Elliott, Elizabeth Garrison. Judith Groleau, Edna Hall, Allan Heifetz, Joseph L. Howard, Gayle Jacobson, Elizabeth Jensen, Joan Lebow, Sandra Lynch, Linda Prentiss, Terry Sickler, Sandra Stewart and Ron Van Dewoestine. Following a custom adopted in recent years, the school no longer designates students as valedictorian and salutatorian. Honor is given, instead, to the top 10 percent of the class.

PRAISES FIRE DEPT. FOR PROMPT ACTION

The Fire Department received an additional bouquet this week - this one for prompt action at a fire on Jenkins rd. at the state forest. Mrs. Thomas King, 117 Jenkins rd., asked the Townsman to express her, and the neighbors', appreciation for the "prompt, efficient" work of the department in putting out a brush fire.

An obvious impasse over responsibility for safety measures on Beacon st. may be resolved between Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and School Supt. Edward L. Erickson. And if this fails, the Selectmen and School Committee may meet "informally" to discuss the situation. Selectman Paul W. Cronin favored the latter course of action, in suggesting that an attempt be made to solve Beacon st. residents' requests for sidewalks or bus transportation. Noting that bus drivers are paid 75¢ a mile for extra mileage, and that the trip from Beacon st. to the West School is about a mile each way, Mr. Cronin said the bill (Continued on Page Ten)

Special Youth Concert By Philharmonic Orchestra

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society will present Joseph Ierardi, conducting the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra, in a Youth Concert, May 4, in Andover High School, at 2:15 p.m. Mr. Ierardi's second concert for the 1963 season will be devoted to music for the young at heart. The interest shown from young people in the Merrimack Valley has prompted the Society to start immediate plans to hold a Youth Concert as the second concert of its scheduled five concert season. Mr. Ierardi has selected "Peter & The Wolf" to be his feature presentation, Robert A. Watters of Andover will narrate. The concert, for young people from 8 to 80 years, is intended to be educational as well as entertaining. Mr. Ierardi will present each section of his 75 piece orchestra and show how the instruments produce fine music. The young people of the Merrimack Valley have not had the opportunity to see or hear an orchestra of this size in many years. Due to the already heavy response for tickets and the limitations of an auditorium (Continued on Page Eight)

A rigid inspection of buildings along Post Office ave. has been ordered by the Selectmen, in the wake of last Saturday's disastrous fire.

While commending the fire department for holding the blaze to one structure, the Selectmen recognized that remaining buildings should undergo thorough inspection by local officials.

In addition to the building inspector, the Selectmen have directed that the Board of Health, electrical inspector, plumbing inspector and any others concerned with the building, sanitary or safety regulations take a sharp look at the structures.

The Board also suggested that assessments be scanned, to determine whether they are actually in keeping with true values in the area. There was some indication that the Selectmen believe the value of land in the area is greater than reflected in the assessments.

Selectmen William Stewart, Paul W. Cronin and B. Allen Rowland appeared determined that the inspections they ordered will be thorough. Each added comments to the effect that this should encompass more than an ordinary inspection.

Little League To Open Saturday

Little League will formally begin this Saturday, with an opening day double-header and a parade. The Red Sox and Yankees will start the season, followed by the Braves vs the Cards. Opening day festivities will begin at 1:30, when the Girls' Band, the Boys' Band, members of all Little League teams, farm teams, and directing adults, will leave the playstead for a parade around downtown streets. The line of march is Bartlet st. to Punchard ave., onto Main st., down to Park st., turn onto Park to Bartlet, onto Chestnut st. as far as Whittier, and into the Playstead. Promptly at 2 o'clock, the League president, F. E. Cavellier, will give his welcome, followed by prayer and the National Anthem. The first ball of the season will be thrown out by Mark Walker.

Sorority Held Founder's Dinner

In 1931, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was founded in Abilene, Kansas, by Walter W. Ross, and in just 32 years has grown from a single chapter to an international sorority, with 150,000 active members, comprising 6,000 chapters in 15 countries. Every year at the end of April, each chapter holds a Founder's Day dinner, and members pledge themselves anew to the principles and service of Life, Learning and Friendship.

Tuesday evening, the Xi Sigma and Beta Mu chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Andover joined together for their annual Founder's Day dinner, which was held at the Lanam Club.

The social chairmen, Mrs. Ian M. Sanderson and Mrs. John W. McCarthy Jr., planned an impressive evening. In a moving ceremony, the Ritual of Jewels Degree was conferred upon Mrs. David MacDonald Jr., Mrs. William B. Kent Jr., Mrs. Frank R. Gaw Jr., Mrs. Daniel A. Thoren and Mrs. Frank H. Robinson. Chamber Singers Here Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon at 3:15 p.m., the Chamber Singers will give a concert of Madrigals and Motets from the 16th and 17th centuries in an upstairs Gallery of the Addison Gallery.

The Chamber Singers is a group organized in 1954, which has given concerts at the Fogg Museum, Harvard University, Phillips Exeter Academy, the Putney School, Putney, Vermont, and elsewhere. Barton Praised By Harvard Coach

JOSEPH E. BARTON

"He is the most pleasant surprise of the young season", says Harvard University lacrosse coach Bruce Munro of Crimson junior Joe Barton, from Andover, who has tallied seven goals in the team's first five games.

"Barton has all the tools to be a fine lacrosse player", says Munro. "He is big, strong, and fast, and he controls the ball as well as anyone on our squad. Without a doubt he is the most improved player on the team." The 6:2 205 pounder's best day of the season came in the Crimson's Ivy opener against Cornell, as he notched four goals, top one-game performance by any member of the squad so far this season.

Barton is a graduate of Phillips Academy, where he received letters in football and lacrosse. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barton 34 Florence st., he is majoring in government with plans for a career in law.

Barton Praised By Harvard Coach

"He is the most pleasant surprise of the young season", says Harvard University lacrosse coach Bruce Munro of Crimson junior Joe Barton, from Andover, who has tallied seven goals in the team's first five games.

"Barton has all the tools to be a fine lacrosse player", says Munro. "He is big, strong, and fast, and he controls the ball as well as anyone on our squad. Without a doubt he is the most improved player on the team." The 6:2 205 pounder's best day of the season came in the Crimson's Ivy opener against Cornell, as he notched four goals, top one-game performance by any member of the squad so far this season.

Barton is a graduate of Phillips Academy, where he received letters in football and lacrosse. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barton, 34 Florence st., he is majoring in government with plans for a career in law.

Open House At St. Augustine's

An event of interest to non-Catholics and Catholics alike will take place at St. Augustine's Church next Sunday, April 28, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Fifty to 60 members of the parish Confraternity of Christian Doctrine will be on hand to act as greeters, ushers, and guides at an Open House, intended as a goodwill gesture to all friends of the Parish. The aim is to enable these people to get a better knowledge and acquaintance with the Catholic Church by viewing at close quarters, Church furnishings, vestments, Sacred vessels, sacramentals, the Confessionals, Missals, Altars, etc.

The Open House has been held in many parishes throughout America with great success, but as far as is known, this the first parish in the Archdiocese of Boston to hold it.

The idea of the Open House is in keeping with His Holiness, Pope John XXIII's wishes to promote good relations with non-Catholics.

All residents of greater Lawrence are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served in Good Counsel Hall at the end of the tour.

David E. Bartholemew and Joseph Zelinski are co-chairmen; Therese Morarity and Robert King make the Committee planning the Open House.

Susan Willis Elected At School

Miss Susan Willis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Willis of Porter rd., has been elected next year's president of the Resident Department of her school, the Lincoln School for girls in Providence R.I.

On the weekend preceding her election Miss Willis represented her school at the Model United Nations Conference in Wilmington, where she acted as a Yugoslavian delegate to the Special Political Committee of the U.N. Miss Willis is also a member of the Glee Club, Modern Dance Club, Tea Dance Committee, and a volunteer worker at the Butler Mental Hospital in Providence. Next year she will be made a member of the Student Council.

Science Fair Night At Junior High

The fifth annual Science Fair Night at Andover Junior High School will be held at the school gymnasium May 2, from 7-9 p.m.

Again this year the general public is cordially invited to attend and view the many scientific exhibits accomplished by students from grades 7-9.

For some months now, students at the school have been working on individual projects of scientific interest to themselves. These projects range from life processes to rocketry.

A notable part of the evening program will be the film commentary of last year's project "Skyhook". This project was a joint venture by research teams of students from the eighth and ninth grades on various phases of meteorology. The film will be shown on three occasions that evening, at 7:30, 8, and 8:30.

Certificates of merit will be presented at a later date to the three winners at each grade level.

Harry Jankochian is head of the Science Department.

Litterbug, Beware! You're The Target

Spring is here and has awakened the flowers and the Litterbug!

The Andover Garden Club and the Spade and Trowel Garden Club, both members of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., in conjunction with Governor Endicott Peabody's proclamation declaring the week of April 21-28 "Keep Massachusetts Beautiful", are conducting a "War on Litter".

Chairmen are Mrs. Joseph Daley, 30 North Main st. and Mrs. J. R. McLeod, 37 West Parish dr. In addition to the 12,000 members of the garden clubs, state litter prevention chairman, Mrs. Cyrus Brewer of Chestnut Hill, has enlisted students of public, private and parochial schools, Boy and Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs, public officials, businessmen, church groups, and civic organizations.

School children have written essays concerning litter prevention and displayed posters that depict "Don't Be A Litterbug". At the annual meeting of The Federation, which will be held May 27-28 at The Belmont, West Harwich-by-the-Sea, an award will be presented to the garden club that has staged in a store window the most original educational, and thought-provoking exhibit concerning the litter problem as a traffic hazard, as a menace to health and as an expense to our state and national government.

Throughout this week many garden clubs will continue the practice of purchasing pole-mounted litter-baskets and to request town officials to enforce the litter law. Since more than 50 million tax dollars are spent nationally each year just to remove litter from primary highways alone, and $255,000 is spent annually by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, the garden clubs of Andover will have available for motorists a specially designed cloth travel-trash container, made by the blind in Detroit, Mich. Although the campaign will concentrate on the shopping areas, Mrs. Brewer requests all citizens of the Commonwealth to assist this year's campaign by removing litter from or near their own property and to "Keep Massachusetts Beautiful", not only this week but every week of the year.

Mrs. Brewer adds that along with new spring bonnets, could Massachusetts residents have new litterbags for cars and new trash cans for homes.

FLOWER SHOW

The Northern and Northeastern Districts of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc. are sponsoring a standard flower show, "A Salute to Suburban Living", in conjunction with the 50th Anniversary and Annual Open House at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute in Danvers. The show will be held in the new Alumni Memorial Building Saturday, April 27, from 1 to 5 p.m. and Sunday, 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited and admission is free.

spreading, under the conditions prevailing on Post Office ave. The first alarm of fire came from Police Officer John Murray, at 2:45 a.m. Saturday. Eleven minutes later, the second alarm - corresponding to a general alarm - was sounded. That called in all off-duty personnel, and help was summoned from North Andover, Lawrence, Tewksbury and North Reading.

Thankful that there was little wind, the firefighters quickly put a water curtain into operation in the small space between the KofC building and its neighbors. Thousands of gallons of water were poured between and on the structures, preventing spread of the flames.

Firefighters said they had to break into the burning building. Many of the windows were boarded up, and this had the effect of sealing the flames in, creating greater heat within the structure. There were no injuries reported at the scene.

The tavern on the ground floor and the K of C suite had been utilized during Friday evening.

Early this week, K of C officials said the organization's building fund must now be accelerated. The group has plans to build its own building on Osgood st., and has been in the process of raising money for this purpose.

Sound judgment can be given credit for a lot of silence.

would be about $3 a day. That, he commented, is a small price to pay for the safety of the children.

Town Manager Duff warned the Board that constructing a sidewalk on the street before school ends in June is "humanly and financially impossible."

He also forecast a major improvement job, if the town undertakes any work on the street, and its intersection with Chandler rd. Although there were no estimates given, it appeared that a road-widening project would be involved, and a major reconstruction project at the intersection.

Selectman William Stewart urged his colleagues to get on with the job, noting that "it must be done sometime". He suggested that, if the work can not be done with money already appropriated, there should be specific proposals for town meeting next year.

It was also brought out during the discussion that there are many dangerous conditions in town, and that all must receive attention if one does. Selectman Stewart commented that a start has to be made some time.

The School Committee had refused transportation for the residents on Beacon st., because the Lawrence line is just one mile from the school. Thus the children fall within the walk area.

Members of the School Committee felt that allowing bus privileges in this case would result in demands for buses in other areas, that also are within the walking distance.

Residents of the street have sought either buses or a sidewalk. They claim that the dangerous intersection with Chandler rd., plus the narrow condition on Beacon st., make it unsafe for elementary school children to walk. In the winter, they claim, the youngsters don't have any place to get away from oncoming cars, due to snow conditions.

Monday - fruit juice, buttered roll and kernel corn, midnight chocolate cake.

Thursday - cafeteria beans with frankfurters,etchup, cabbage, pepper salad, French onion, apple crisp and milk.

Hope For Action On Corner Lot

Residents of South Main st. and Alderbrook rd. are hopeful that the men seen Saturday on the vacant lot at the corner were surveying the premises for possible use.

For over 10 years, the property has been vacant except for debris left from an explosion and fire in the restaurant which formerly stood there, an attractive (to children) but dangerous playground for youngsters. Lately people have been observed driving in, eating lunch, and tossing the remains on the ground.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Double Taxation

A suggestion has been made that parking fees be charged at Pomp's Pond.

Immediate opposition was expressed — and we agree that it makes common sense — to the effect that this is double taxation. All of the town's taxpayers pay for the recreation area, including the parking. Why should some have to pay twice?

The only way this could be accomplished, in our opinion, is to deduct the amount collected via parking fees from the annual appropriation. But we suspect this isn't exactly the aim of those proposing the charges. Rather, it seems that this may be a round-about way to get more money for the area.

Basically, if the Pomp's Pond center is to be tax-supported, then all taxpayers should have equal rights to its facilities. They should not have to pay to get their cars into the parking lot.

Inspections Are Needed

The Selectmen's decision to order complete inspections of buildings in the Post Office ave. area is timely and wise.

All structures in the town, which may be suspect because of age and appearance, should be examined with great thoroughness. And their owners should be required to make the buildings conform to town requirements.

The Post Office ave. section is the most obvious — thus it gets the first inspections.

But we assume that this overdue action will apply, with exactly the same amount of determination, to all buildings in and out of the business area, if they are in bad condition.

One way to enhance the appearance of the town is to require rigid conformance with local codes — if this is done, buildings probably would not begin to look so old and decrepit as some in the center of town.

We hope that the Selectmen's orders are carried out with vigor by all concerned individuals and departments.

Conflict OK For Some?

Changes in the state conflict of interest law are being considered in the Legislature, even as this is being written.

And although the amendments have not all been spelled out, it is our understanding that they exempt many persons from provisions of the law, particularly all of those who serve on an unpaid basis.

We have, on several occasions, asked for changes in the existing law, because the statute tends to hurt small towns like Andover. But we can't understand making broad exemptions, which might have the effect of allowing obvious conflicts by some individuals, but not by others.

The Legislature passed the law last year; demands for its thorough study were heard almost immediately afterwards.

It seems to us that the amendments now being offered may be the result of hasty action — just as was passage of the original law. In this case, the second wrong can hardly be expected to make a right.

It might be much wiser to change the effective date of the law — allowing a year for further study and refinement. Only after such thorough examination can we be at all sure that changes are not being made in such a way as to further obscure the already fuzzy law, and that the changes are not creating a special class of conflict-allowed officials.

CAPITOL COMMENT

By YOUR CONGRESSMAN
BRAD MORSE

A "mid session" review of the Congressional workload shows that the 88th Congress has some mighty important business ahead of it.

With a draft law extension, Citizenship for Winston Churchill and a supplementary farm appropriation bill listed as passed by both the House and the Senate on the Congressional scorecard, Congressmen and Senators have returned from their home districts for the long half of the 88th Congress' first session.

The House, having passed a Defense Procurement Authorization Bill, the Interior Department Appropriation and the Supplemental Appropriation Bill, will be confronted with major legislative proposals including foreign aid, a pay boost for the military; a proposal for an increase in the debt ceiling; new agricultural programs for cotton, feed grain and dairy products; aid to higher education; equal pay for women; packaging and labeling regulations to protect the consumer; a mental health program; land conservation and air pollution research.

Civil rights legislation, transportation policy changes, a proposal to establish an Urban Affairs Department and home rule for the District of Columbia also rank high on the Congressional agenda.

Talk of a tax cut goes on, but it appears that Congress will not reach a decision on this matter until after Labor Day. Public hearings have been completed in the House Ways and Means Committee. The Committee is now working on a bill in executive session for presentation to the House.

On the Senate side, however, it appears that the Finance Committee will probably not complete work on a bill before the September holiday.

Until bills are reported, it is difficult to predict what is going to happen. The President's statement that he would take a cut without reform has, in the opinion of many, weakened if not destroyed the case for tax reform and could cause corresponding reductions in the amount of the cut that may be enacted.

Another important measure which has already passed the Senate is the Mass Transportation Act of 1963. This bill would provide a program of federal assistance to urban areas seeking to modernize their transportation facilities.

Balanced against the reluctance of Congress to extend Federal activities in the transportation field must be the increasingly heavy demand put on existing services by the expanding urban population. The Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee is working hard and long over the specific provisions of the Mass Transportation Bill.

The road ahead for Congress is a busy one.

No Tax Freedom Until May 1

The average U. S. taxpayer quit working full-time for the government April 22 — but not in Massachusetts.

In this state he must wait until May 1 for "Tax Freedom Day," the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations said.

For the first four months of 1963, the average state resident has been laboring just to pay his local, state and federal taxes noted Frank J. Zeo executive director. In the current issue of "TaxTalk".

About 33 percent of the State taxpayer's gross yearly income will be needed for taxes in 1963. The national figure is 30 percent. Putting it another way, the average American taxpayer works two hours and 26 minutes of each eight-hour working day, all year long just to support government.

Here's the Massachusetts breakdown of 1962 per capita tax payments: federal $630; state, $105; local $160.

"Tax Freedom Day" is no subject for rejoicing with proclamations or dancing in the streets," commented Zeo, "But working four

VA Gives Hints On Getting Info

Don't write the Veterans Administration's Washington office to obtain information about veterans benefits.

Quicker results will follow a visit, phone call or letter to the local regional VA office.

Specific requests for information concerning individual cases cannot be handled in Washington, William F. Connors, manager of VA's regional office, One Beacon st., Boston, points out. These must be answered at the office where the records, files and case folders pertaining to individual veterans are maintained.

These records are kept in regional offices and at least one is located in each state in the United States and in Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

When veterans write regional offices for information, they should include their full names, complete address, birthdate and claim number ("C" number)

To Investigate Dog's Behavior

The Selectmen have ordered an investigation of conditions, relating to a neighborhood dog and a neighbor's garden, following receipt of a complaint from Mrs. F. E. Wilson, 15 Lincoln st.

Following procedures established by law, the Selectmen directed Police Chief David L. Nicoll to investigate written complaints about the neighborhood dog. Mrs. Wilson, in her letter, said the animal jumps a fence into her garden, tears it up in passing, then jumps another fence on the way out.

Boys on bicycles encourage the animal, she wrote.
Mrs. Wilson said she has invested both money and many years of time in her garden, and believes that she should not have to put up with dog's antics.

Fire Station Site Discussed Again

Selectman William Stewart wants town officials to consider using municipal land in a triangle bounded by Ledge, Chandler and Greenwood rds. for a fire station.

The site was suggested as a possible alternative to the one on Greenwood rd., on the Higgins property at High Plain rd. Mr. Stewart said there is only half a mile difference, and wondered whether there would be serious objection to utilizing land already owned by the town.

There was some discussion about utilizing the site near the town dump, and when it will become usable.

Dancing, Singing
By Students

This Saturday evening, Abbot Academy will present a group of eight boys and eight girls, who will do folk dancing and singing.

These boys and girls are from the Hindman Settlement School in Eastern Kentucky, situated in the Appalachian Mountains. This is a school which houses the boys and girls from the remote "mountain coves", who could not otherwise attend school because of the poor roads. They live at the settlement and attend local schools and are also trained in other vocations such as shop, crafts, and home-making at the school.

For a number of years the boys and girls have practiced folk dancing and singing and this particular group is now touring the east. The girls at Abbot are particularly interested in meeting them because, for a number of years, they have sent Christmas gifts and other contributions to the settlement school. Among the songs and dances are some which come from England and some which originated in the mountains.

They will be accompanied by Raymond W. McLane, musician and director of the group and also executive director of the Hindman School; Miss Atossa French, musician and musicmobile director of the Settlement; and Mr. and Mrs. Lione! Duff, teachers at Decoy rural elementary school, former Settlement students themselves and parents of one of the boys in the group.

Mrs. James Eastham, 16 Alden rd., is one of the members of the Board of Directors of this school.

The program begins at 8 p.m. in Davis Hall and the public is cordially invited to attend. There is no charge for admission.

Set Courses For Adult Program

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Andover Evening Study Program, held Thursday, April 18, Frederick Peterson of Chapel ave., presided as the newly elected chairman.

He succeeds H. Schuyler Royce Jr., chairman since 1959. Three new members of the Board were inducted: Dr. Eric C. Baade of Chapel ave.; Thomas M. Mikula, off Main st.; and Reagh Wetmore of Highland rd. Each has given outstandingly successful courses in the program in the last few years. Dr. Baade will be remembered for Daily Life in Ancient Pompeii; Mr. Mikula for Mathematics for Parents; and Mr. Wetmore for the novel Drown-proofing course.

Dates for the fall program were set as follows: beginning Monday, Oct. 7, continuing for most courses for seven weeks through Thursday, Nov. 21. Courses like those in Basic Seamanship, presented by the Coast Guard Auxiliary, which require eight meetings, will continue on into the following week.

In the fall of 1962, there were over 1,100 course enrollments from Andover and other cities and towns of the Merrimack Valley. Over 600 individuals attended. As is the custom, all instructors, drawn from the schools and colleges of the Merrimack Valley, gave their services free. Tuition is nominal, and the income remaining over necessary expenses is always given away to institutions of an educational nature serving people of the Merrimack Valley. This past year, the Directors voted $500 to the Andover Memorial Library and $500 to WGBH. In the 26 seasons since 1935, the Evening Study Program has given away over $11,000. There have been, in that time, approximately 18,000 course enrollments by over 8,000 individuals.

The always popular Andover Film Program, under the auspices of the Evening Study Program, will offer a series of eight films Wednesday nights during the winter months this year. Thirty-six other courses were approved by the Board for the fall, including courses in such diverse fields as sculpture, theology, painting, music, the classics, modern language, folk songs, squash and skiing instruction, botany, history, mathematics, psychology, physical education, investments and American antiques.

The catalogue of courses will be mailed to all those on the mailing list the day after Labor Day. Anyone wishing to receive a free catalogue is cordially invited to write now to The Director, The Andover Evening Study Program, Phillips Academy, Andover. Courses will be held in the buildings of Phillips Academy, including the new Art and Communications Center, The Evans Science Building, and the Memorial Gymnasium. The Program is open to all, and especially welcome are those whose formal education has been limited.

America-PAST* creates a Gracious Dining-PRESENT with the new Public House collection from Heywood-Wakefield

Yes, it's authentic to the most minute detail... in the subtle new elegance of the spindle-back chairs... in the quiet, stately quality of the legs... in the new refinement of line reflected in the Welsh China. Subtle suggestions of more formal dining... yet, as warm and friendly as Colonial has ever been. Only Heywood-Wakefield, famous for its Old Colony Group, could execute such classic restraint... without losing intrinsic charm of Early American. Expertly hand-fashioned in solid rock maple. If you've been searching for a dining room of distinction... look no further. Come, see these and other masterpieces from our Public House Collection.

Members of Brownie Troop 74 of St. Augustine's School enjoyed a trip to Boston during vacation week.

Although planning had included only the Freedom Trail, the day was full of pleasant surprises. After a visit to the Hall of Flags and House of Representatives in the State House, the group was presented to Crown Prince Hans Adam of Liechtenstein, by Very Rev. Edward J. Carney, O.S.A., of Lawrence. Shortly afterwards, they met Governor Endicott Peabody, and other state dignitaries, at the unveiling of a miniature model of a road project in the State House.

Following luncheon at a Boston hotel, a special treat was a surprise meeting with Frankie Fontaine, well-known television comedian, who graciously gave the group autographs. A trip to the observation roof of the John Hancock Building, with its panoramic view of Boston, and a ride on the swan boats, climaxed the day.

The following girls made the trip: Sheila Cronin, Anne Doyle, Sheila Doherty, Mary McCabe, Ann McGrahey, Sheila Bresnahan, Patricia Silva, Joyce Guerrera, and Mary Davey. They were accompanied by Miss Joanne O'Dowd and Mrs. Francis H. McCabe, Brownie leader.

Appeal Sentence To Supreme Court

Appeals are being taken to the Massachusetts Supreme Court, following the conviction and sentencing of three men on charges of larceny and conspiracy.

Atty. Richard K. Gordon, Atty. Richard C. Simmers and Francis W. Kiernan were given sentences adding up to 5 1/2 years on the two charges, by Judge Francis J. Quirico.

The execution of the sentences has been delayed, pending the appeal.

The trio, whose conviction came at the end of last week, received the following sentences: on larceny, not less than 2 1/2 nor more than three years, to be served at Walpole State prison; and a maximum of 2 1/2 years on the conspiratorial charges, to be served at the Suffolk County House of Correction, after the term for larceny has been satisfied.

Tax Title Land Was Discussed

Tax title land on Woburn st. caused a burst of indignation from Rep. Arthur Williams Monday night, when he accused Town Manager Thomas E. Duff of "procrastination" in negotiating sale of the land.

Atty. Williams told the Selectmen he first started discussing the land sale two years ago, and had received agreement about six months ago that the manager could negotiate with him over prices.

Nothing has been done, he charged — and now there appears to be someone else interested in the site, too.

During the resulting discussion, Town Manager Duff said legal problems surrounding the deed, and manner of taking, had yet to be settled. And he suggested that Mr. Williams should have consulted with Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien, town counsel, about the legalities.

The Selectmen had been discussing the land now owned by the town, via tax takings, and had agreed that it should be disposed of as soon as possible.

Selectman B. Allen Rowland expressed the thought that this has been delayed too long now — Selectman William Stewart indicated he does not think this is the case.

However, there was agreement that all the land should be spotted on maps, for the Selectmen's inspection, before anything else is done.

The subject has been discussed many times over the past few years, dating back to Edward P. Hall's term on the Board. At that time, he investigated much of the available land, and prepared some maps for the Board to consider.

WILL FILED

The will of Albert E. Schlott, 35 Sunset Rock rd., gives his unestimated estate to his widow, Annie Schlott according to the document filed in the Registry of Probate.

Mr. Schlott died March 18, also leaving a son, William A. Schlott. The will made Sept. 24, 1960, gave his tangible personal property, household furniture, an auto and real estate outright to his widow.

He directed that the rest of his property is to be distributed in accordance with a trust he has executed. Mrs. Schlott and Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co. were nominated as co-executors.
